The California and Nevada Tribal Transportation Training and Technical Assistance Program (CA/NV TTAP) invites you to attend a one-day workshop on Tribal—State Consultation for Tribal Leaders, Tribal Administrators/Managers/Planners and Tribal Transportation Personnel.

This one day training was just added to the TTAP training calendar. We apologize for the short notice but the opportunity just became available. We hope you can attend!

This session will provide an overview of the fundamental powers of Indian tribes and how the authority of tribes create and enforce laws; enter into government-to-government relationships; the process of including the tribal governments with the planning and decision making of transportation activities that affect which tribal communities.

We will discuss state policies, review state and federal laws protecting tribal sacred sites and methods for developing consultation protocols.

Agenda

Thursday May 8, 2008

- What is Consultation?
- Who has a duty to consult with Indian Tribes and what is the source of such a duty?
- Does this duty include unrecognized tribes?
- State transportation department policies
- National Historic Preservation Act
- Tribal jurisdiction issues including right of way issues
