SOLID WASTE MANAGEMENT SAFETY AND RECYCLING STRATEGIES

COURTYARD MARRIOTT DENVER DOWNTOWN

DENVER, COLORADO
AUGUST 13-15, 2013

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Development Program has awarded a grant to the National Indian Justice Center (NIJC) to develop and deliver a 3 day training session on Safety and Recycling Strategies for Cleaning Up Illegal Dumps on Tribal Lands. The focus of the training session will be on: Safety and Hazardous Waste regulations—an overview of federal safety and hazardous waste regulations that may apply to illegal dump clean up projects; Safety Risks and Hazards in Illegal Dump Clean Ups; Preventing Risks and Hazards in solid waste management projects, and Recycling strategies for items found in illegal dumps. The training will also offer an overview of tribal governance as it relates to solid waste management, worker safety, current and critical issues associated with illegal dumping, RCRA issues and other updates on solid waste management.

This course is designed for tribal elected officials, tribal environmental personnel, Solid Waste management personnel, state and federal EPA personnel that work with tribes to address solid waste management issues and others interested in increasing the capacity of tribes to address worker and community safety, recycling and other solid waste management issues.
