

CALL FOR WORKSHOPS

July 18-20, 2013

Marriott Anaheim, Anaheim, California

www.nijc.org/conferences.html

Call for Workshops Deadline is April 2, 2013

We invite you to suggest a workshop topic for the 13th Annual For All My Relations: A Conference for Indian Families (FAMR), (July 18-20, 2013) at the Marriott Anaheim Hotel (next to Disneyland Resort). The goal of this conference is to create a strong foundation for Native American families and tribal governments to build upon as they develop and administer programs that improve their community's health and welfare. This conference brings together around 500 individuals from Indian country including: tribal council members, parents, Indian youth, health and social service providers, victim advocates, judges, attorneys, police officers, medical personnel, various tribal agency employees and others who work with or are concerned about the health, welfare, and safety of Indian Families. The cultural, social, and political integrity of tribal communities will become healthy and stable if we commit collectively to care for and support Native families.

NIJC will contact you about the status of your suggested workshop by April 9, 2013.

Conference Workshop

- Workshop presenters are not paid for their time or expenses.
- Workshops are 1 hour and 15 minutes in length for a maximum of 35 participants. Please complete a separate form for each proposed workshop.
- Workshops are conducted on the afternoon of July 18 and all day on July 19.
- Presenters must provide their own laptop and email their presentation and/or workshop materials in advance to NIJC in PDF format for distribution to conference participants. NIJC A/V assistants will accommodate PC laptops only. MAC users must bring all the necessary connections, cables and adapters to connect their laptops to an LCD projector.

Conference Registration

- All workshop presenters receive a complimentary single day registration for the day(s) they are presenting. Registrations/tickets for the non-presentation days will be available for purchase.
